STUDENT NAME: Kinleigh Neumeier - KG

STUDENT PARENT'S NAME: Amber + John Neumeier

STAFF MEMBER RECOMMENDING: Tessa Gullette + Denise Black

Please write a brief message explaining why you are nominating this student. We will then type it up on a nice certificate to be presented at the October Board Meeting.

Mrs Black + I both loved Kinleigh the moment we saw her because of her effortlessly cool style. However, once we got to know her, our reasons for loving her has grown into a full blown list. Her smile is contagious, her giggle is infectious, and her sweet disposition is inspiring. Kindergarten is hard work and lots of new skills and lessons are thrown at these little ones all day long. We often hear "I can't do this" or "I don't know how." But Kinleigh is different. She never gets discouraged, she pushes herself, and is often heard saying, "I'm still learning this." I think that's what we love most about her—her determination without discouragement. She, unknowingly, inspires not only her classmates to keep her positive "I'm still learning" attitude—but also a few grown-ups too →

Kinleigh shows us everyday that it doesn't always matter if you know everything or can learn a new skill right away. What matters is the attitude you have while "still learning."
(And that you can do it with a smile and some really cool outfits.)

STUDENT NAME: Benjamin Bishop - 1st Grade

STUDENT PARENT'S NAME: Chelsey Higgins

STAFF MEMBER RECOMMENDING: Mrs. Neu

Please write a brief message explaining why you are nominating this student. We will then type it up on a nice certificate to be presented at the October Board Meeting.

From the very first day of school, Ben has been eager to come in and do his best. He has a smile that lights up the room and is always full of compliments to give out. Ben shows pride in his work and gives it his full potential. He truly enjoys learning and wants to be better every day. Keep up the great work, Ben! I am so excited to see all of the growth you make this year in first grade!

STUDENT NAME: Brynlee Hopkins - 2nd Grade

STUDENT PARENT'S NAME: Beverly Setzer

STAFF MEMBER RECOMMENDING: Mrs. Cutnaw

Brynlee is such a joy! She comes in each morning with a smile to brighten our day. Brynlee goes out of her way to be helpful to her teachers and classmates. Her empathy is evident in how she interacts with those around her. When she sees something that needs done or someone in need, she helps without prompting. Along with her character traits she is also an academic leader in our classroom. She works hard and participates well. I can always count on her to be a good example. Brynlee exemplifies the qualities we hold dear to be a Redskin. I am thankful I get to be her teacher and occasionally her lunch partner. :)

Student: Chloe Seitz - 4th Grade

Student Parent's Name: Natasha Seitz and Joseph Brown

Staff Member Recommending: Mrs. Brown

I would like to take this time to recognize Chloe Seitz as an outstanding student of Cridersville Elementary School and Mrs. Brown's 4th grade class. Chloe is a hard worker, and always does her best at everything she does. She is incredibly responsible, always doing what is required of her, and more, and she treats all students and teachers with great respect. While all of those things are an important part of why I would like to recognize Chloe, I also see in her one of the kindest and most caring hearts of any 4th grader I have known. She has a special ability to go out of her way each and every day to be a friend to others who may feel left out or who are simply feeling down. We are so blessed to have Chloe at this school, and in our 4th grade class!
